People for Proper Policing in North Wales

Another classic abuse of the mobile speed Camera by Arrive Alive.

This location enables them to trap 1000s of motorists, mostly visitors, driving along Penrhyn Bay promenade road * when they increase speed marginally & naturally as they pass between the wide open Golf course and the sea. It has absolutely nothing to do with Road safety and is a disgrace which the people of North Wales should be ashamed of.

These dark blue vans are much less visible than the earlier white ones, but visitors don't recognise them and their insidious activities anyway.
